PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, August 20

THE RAILWAYS, FOR the first time, will allow third party audit of its bridges, a month after one of its road overbridges collapsed at Andheri in Mumbai injuring five, two of whom died later, a senior official of the ministry said.

The general managers of all the zones have been asked to fix specialised national or even international agencies to conduct these technical audits.

"The board has said the present system of inspection of bridges is considered adequate and they will continue, but keeping in view the incidents of part collapse/failure of ROBs, railway bridge and FoBs it has been decided to conduct third party audit of identified and critical bridges for an independent expert view," the official said.

Zonal railways has been advised to carry out one-time audit, which would include underwater inspection, nondestructive testing, design adequacy for present day loading, including earthquake force.

After the July 3 collapse, railway minister Piyush Goyal had ordered the railways to collaborate with IIT-Bombay to carry out an audit of 445 bridges.
